ARKANSAS SWEPT

By the Democrats in the State Election

By a Plurality That is the Largest Ever Given in the State—Jones Elected Governor by 70,000.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept 8.—Arkansas was carried by the democrats yesterday by probably the largest plurality ever given in the state. Henry M. Hooper, chairman of the republican state central committee, concedes the defeat of the ticket headed by H. L. Remmel, of Nowport, for governor, by 45,000. Carroll Armstrong, chairman of the democratic state central committee, claims 65,000 plurality for his party's ticket. Judging by the returns thus far in, it is reasonably conservative to place the democratic plurality at 50,000 or more. The largest heretofore gained in the state was 48,724, given the democratic gubernatorial ticket in 1894. The successful ticket is as follows:

Governor, Daniel W. Jones, of Pulaski; secretary of state, Alex H. Hull, of Boone; attorney general, E. B. Kinsworthy, of Clark; auditor, Clay Sloan, of Lawrence; treasurer, Ransom Gulley, of Izard; land commissioner, J. F. Richey, of Jefferson; superintendent of education, Junius Jordan, of Jefferson; commissioner of agriculture, W. G. Vincenheller, of Washington; chief justice, H. G. Bunn, of Ouachiti; associate justice, S. P. Hughes, of Pulaski.

The republicans had a full ticket in the field, while the populists contented themselves with nominating Abner W. Files for governor.

The populists scratched Mr. Files and voted almost solidly for Mr. Jones, as did many of the sound money democrats. The prohibition vote was small throughout the state, the principal fight on the question being made in this city, where an effort was made to carry the city dry. The county gives license the advantage by 600 majority, and it is estimated that the total vote of the county will increase this to 1,200.

THE MAJORITY INCREASES.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 8.—Additional returns received up to noon indicate that Colonel Daniel W. Jones and the remainder of the democratic state ticket won in yesterday's election by 65,000 or 70,000. This beats all former records in Arkansas. If the same vote was cast in other counties as was polled in the counties on the line of the railroads, the falling off was not more than 10 per cent. of the registered vote. In this case 180,000 votes were polled. Of this number it is generally believed or conceded that Remmell, republican, will have about 40,000; Files, populist, 15,000, and Miller, prohibitionist, 2,000. At the highest figures three of the candidates received 57,000 or 60,000 votes. This would leave Colonel Jones with 120,000, or 64,000 majority over all, greater by over 13,000 than it was claimed he would get prior to the election. Two years ago, when Governor Clarke was elected, 126,000 votes were polled. Yesterday's vote exceeded these figures by about 50,000.

COLONEL JONES SURPRISED.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Chairman Jones, of the democratic national committee, in speaking of the result of the Arkansas election, said today: "I expected a majority of about 40,000, but was entirely unprepared for what seems to be the result. I attribute the tremendous majority to the issue of bimetallism and free silver. The result in Arkansas shows what may reasonably be expected throughout the entire south and west, just as the result in Vermont foreshadowed the result in the New England states."

WHEAT LOWER.

Caused by a General Disposition to Sell.

Corn, Oats and Provisions Reported Quiet but Steady, and Closed at Opening Prices.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Wheat opened lower this morning, with a general inclination among traders to sell. The principal reason for the weakness was the world's shipments, which showed a big increase. There was also an increase on passage. Cables were indifferent and northwestern receipts liberal, averaging 937 cars for the last three days. The market improved on the firm later cables, December, which opened at 57⅞@⅞c, declined to 57⅛c and reacted to 57⅜c.

Corn, dull and weak on large receipts. May opened ½c lower at 24c, and declined to 23⅞c.

Oats, quiet but steady. May opened ⅛c lower at 18⅛c, advanced to 18¼c and eased off to the opening price.

Provisions, steady on the small hogs receipts and better prevailing prices at the yards.

January pork opened unchanged at $6 55 and advanced to $6 60 bid.

January lard unchanged at $3 57½.

January ribs opened 2½c lower at $3 27½, advancing to $3 32½.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Wheat—Sept, 56⅛@56¼c; Oct, 56⅜c; Dec, 58c; May, 62⅜c.

Corn—Sept., 19⅝@19¾c; Oct., 20c; Dec., 20⅜@21c; May, 23⅛c.

Oats—Sept., 15c; Oct., 15@15⅛c; Dec., 15⅛c; May, 18⅜@18½c.

KANGAROO HUNT.

An Australian Scene to be Witnessed in America.

The Animal Turned Loose, to be Pursued by Twenty-five Hunters, With English Hounds.

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., Sept. 8.—England has her fox hunt, Southern California coyotte hunts and San Rafael hitherto her paper chases, but hereafter she will lead the world with nothing more or less than a kangaroo hunt. A young kangaroo has been secured by the Hotel Rafael management from Australia. All of the experienced riders who participated in the paper chases will take stations near the Hotel Rafael, the kangaroo will be turned loose and will be pursued across the country until recaptured. A pack of twenty-five English hounds is being trained for the hunt, which will occur sometime during the latter part of September. The same rules governing fox hunts will obtain, the first lady in at the death will receive not the brush, but some suitable prize as a souvenir for her skill.

VERY CRITICAL

Is the Condition of Ex-Senator Payne, of Ohio.

Stricken With Paralysis, the Physicians Now Have but Little Hope of His Recovery.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 8.—Ex-United States Senator Payne, who was stricken with paralysis last Wednesday, was said to be resting more comfortably this morning, but his condition is still very critical. On account of his advanced age, eighty-six years, the physicians have very little hope for the recovery of the patient.

ESCAPE FROM JAIL.

Three Prisoners at Hartford City, Ind., Dig Their Way Out.

HERTFORD CITY, Ind., Sept. 7.—John Lucas, Fred Miller and Bob Ricket have been confined in jail here for a month on a charge of burglary. When the jailer entered yesterday to give the prisoners their breakfast he was confronted by a large hole in the stone floor of the jail. The prisoners had removed some of the large stones, had dug through to the basement below, and had made their escape. A prisoner who refused to go out with them said they had been at work upon the excavation for a week or ten days, and that they threatened to kill him if he told the sheriff. They concealed the dirt taken from the excavation in their cells and worked only at night.

FROM A BAGGAGE TRUCK

Democratic Presidential Candidate Addresses Westerners.

Routed From His Bed on the Cars to Speak to and Shake Hands With the Crowds.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 8.—William Jennings Bryan began his speech making today at 6:45 o'clock, at the little town of Pacific Junction, Iowa. He had retired late, but at nearly every station through which the train passed crowds gathered and the nominee was routed from his bed many times to speak and shake hands with the crowds.

At Pacific Junction 200 of the residents had gone to the depot before breakfasting, to see and hear the democratic nominee. A baggage truck was placed beside the car and Mr. Bryan mounted it and said:

"Ladies and Gentlemen:—When I started east I knew our people out here were all right, but I did not know how they might be down there. I found, however, that they were about as much stirred up down there as you are out here. All over this country those who toil and are engaged in the productive industries are interested in having enough money to do business with and those who have money instead of property and want to make dollars rise in value are opposed to it.

"I believe we have more on our side than we have against us. I have the greatest respect for financiers, but I believe the best financier is the man who attends to his own business and lets the people have something to say in the running of the government. If the financier has the eyes to see how the question concerns him, he has the right to use his vote as he sees fit, and you have just as much right to see how it affects you.

"The gold standard means that the dollar will buy more and more all the time and the prices will fall and falling prices means hard times. Debts do not fall, however, and consequently the living expenses must be decreased and as the living expenses decrease, so is the prosperity of the merchant decreased and I know of no way to restore prosperity except by increasing the power of the people to consume and the only way you can do that is to enable them to get more for what they produce than what they have been getting."

The first crowd to greet the nominee in his own state was at Plattsmouth, where 500 Nebraskans welcomed him with hearty cheers and tooting of horns. A gaily decorated platform had been erected south of the depot and the country band added its noise to the din.

MR. BRYAN REACHES HIS HOME.

LINCOLN, Sept. 8.—The second home coming of Mr. Bryan, after his nomination, was marked with enthusiasm and a large crowd of his fellow citizens flocked about the depot to shake hands and cheer him. There were about 5,000 people in attendance at the train and two bands of music headed as many democratic and free silver clubs. Prominent citizens were there and as the nominee showed himself from the car they took him in tow to his carriage. Cheer after cheer went up and the bands came in with their share of noise.

The two silver clubs and the citizens in carriages, headed by the bands formed a procession which escorted Mr. Bryan from the Burlington depot to his home. There another crowd had gathered and it was some time before the candidate could get inside his house on account of the delay occasioned by the shaking of hands with those present. This afternoon Mr. Bryan will address the citizens from a platform erected in the state house square and this evening he will be notified of his nomination by the silver party.

BLACK MAY DECLINE.

Told the Gold Standard Committee So.

Judge Thomas Moran, William S. Forman or Henry Raab the Remaining Eligible Candidates.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—General John C. Black will probably issue a letter tomorrow declining the nomination for governor by the gold standard democrats. There was an interesting conference, lasting over two hours, today, between General Black and the gold standard democratic committee, headed by Chairman Ewing. As a result General Black gave no decisive answer as to whether he will accept the nomination for governor. He promised the committee to make no statement until tomorrow, when it is expected he will decline the honor. In the meantime the committee will select Judge Thomas A. Moran, Wm. S. Forman or Henry Raab to make the race against Altgeld and Tanner. Neither General Black nor the members of the committee would talk but it is known that General Black told the committee he could not accept the nomination.

ALBERT MELCHING

Will Devote His Time to the Political Campaign.

Albert Melching, the democratic candidate for sheriff of this county, has resigned temporarily his position as deputy to Sheriff Clausmeier, and will devote his entire time to the political campaign. John B Ryan will take his place and Andy Muldary will fill the position formerly taken by Mr. Ryan. Mr. Melching has made a faithful and everybody, and will be elected sheriff by a large majority.

The Day in Police Circles—Several Robberies Reported—Little Girl Arrested.

It is thought he has relatives in Chicago. Mr. Willie is described as being sixty-four years old, five feet, eight inches in height and weighs 165 pounds. When last seen he wore a black suit and black soft hat.

BURGLARIES AND THEFTS.

They stole a pocketbook containing $8 in cash, also a couple of rings and brooches, several napkin rings and small table silverware and several articles of clothing. Suspicion rests on several young toughs in the neighborhood.

Someone stole half a dozen billiard balls from Pete Certis's saloon.

COULDN'T PAY DEBTS.

And the Lockwood Company Made an Assignment.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 8.—The Lockwood Manufacturing company, manufacturers of patent folding boxes, has made an assignment to James S. Freeland, secretary of the company. No statement of assessment and liabilities can be obtained, but the figures will be large. The company has $100,000 capital and has been doing business for forty years. The plant is finely equipped with valuable machinery. In the past the company has done a large business, but of late collections have been dull and business has fallen off.

DULL TRADE

Causes the Failure of Lumber Dealers.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., Sept. 8.—Executions for $26,000 were issued today against John A. Cahan & Co., dealers in lumber and builders' supplies at Altoona, Pa. The liabilities will aggregate $50,000. An assignment will be made. The prevailing dullness in trade is assigned as the cause of the failure.

A. B. Trentman and wife returned to Hartford City this afternoon.

BASE BALL

Tomorrow. Youngstown vs. Fort Wayne.

England would have done well to look after her Armenians at home while casting tons of ineffectual sympathy on the Armenians abroad. The condition of the released Irish political prisoners who have been in confinement 13 years shows that they were treated with a cruelty and severity one would only expect from a Weyler in Cuba. If the stories so freely told of the frightful physical condition of John Daly and the idiotic mental condition of Whitehead, the American citizen, are true—and they have not been contradicted—then England has been guilty of a horrible outrage, and one which will stain her history so long as she is a nation. Ireland has indeed been a much wronged country.

London Household Words comments on the fact that elopements are going out of fashion. So they are. And it is a sign the human race is getting more sensible and less given up to diseased

'TWAS A BIG DAY.

The Labor Celebration Was a Grand Success.

Gold Watch Awarded to Miss Ella Gaff—The Contests and Other Features.

The Labor day celebration at Robison park yesterday was attended by 12,000 people, and it is worthy of mention that everything went off pleasantly and without a hitch. Notwithstanding the crush at the corner of Main and Calhoun streets, which lasted for more than two hours, Superintendent Stanton had such an excellent street car service that no accidents were reported, and everybody was landed safely at the grounds.

The address of President O'Connell, of the International Machinists' union, was the principal feature of the day at the park. His remarks were confined to the organized labor—its past, its present and its future. He did not discuss the labor question from a political standpoint. He justified the right of labor to organize, calling attention to the great organizations which exist today. He recited a long list of reforms that have already been engrafted into the legislation of the country as a result of organized labor, and believed that workingmen, by keeping together in harmony, would accomplish a great deal more in the future.

The awarding of a gold watch to the most popular member of the Working Girls' union was one of the most interesting events of the afternoon. The elegant time piece was secured by Miss Ella Gaff, of the Home telephone company's offices, but formerly with W. F. Geller's bakery. Her vote was 2,121. At 8 o'clock last evening the presentation was made to her from the platform by John Koch, president of the Trades and Labor council. The other contestants and the votes received were: Miss Anna Fitzgerald, 1,843; Miss Maggie McVeigh, 1,535; Miss Maggie Sweeney, 745; Miss Amanda White, 675; Miss Rose Racquet, 15.

Other events were as follows:

One Hundred Yards' Dash—C. H. Williams, first; Frederick Philabaum, second; William Loehman, third.

Putting the Shot—William Romey, first, 42 feet, 9 inches; S. Gordon, second, 40 feet, 4 inches; Archie Bradley, third, 33 feet, 3 inches.

Boys' Race—James Wilson, first; George Nill, second; Guy Fowler, third.

High Jump—William Romey, first, 4 feet, 11 inches; David Miller, second, 4 feet, 10 inches; Archie Bradley, third, 4 feet, 7 inches.

Three-legged Race—William Meyers and Frank Herter, first; George Moring and James Wilson, second; Oppenheimer and Frances, third.

Long Jump—Archie Bradley, first, 20 feet; Howard Thomas, second, 19 feet, 5 inches; William Romey, third, 19 feet, 1 inch.

Base Ball—Typographical union, 7; Clerks' union, 1.

SHOOTING CONTEST.

The shooting contest was one of the most interesting features of the exercises on the ground to a large portion of the crowd and of the various shooting events the live pigeon contest was the most interesting. Following is the score:

Swart, shots, 8; killed, 6
Knothe, shots, 8; killed, 3.
Hilton, shots, 7; killed, 3.
Jones, shots, 7; killed, 4
Ganzer, shots, 7; killed, 4.
Kelly, shots, 7; killed, 5.
Leonard, shots, 7; killed 4.
Durfee, shots, 7; killed, 6
Fleming, shots, 7; killed, 6.
Witz, shots, 7; killed, 6.
Mayo, shots, 6; killed, 1.

In the clay pigeon shoot, Fleming scored 22 out of 27 shots, and Witz 26 out of 37 shots.

HANGED ON A BRIDGE.

Murderers of Sheriff Rogers Sent Into Eternity.

GLENCOE, Minn., Sept. 8.—Dorman Musgrove and Charles Cinqmars paid the penalty for murdering Sheriff Rogers at an early hour yesterday. A determined mob of 100 men took them from the county jail, dragged them to a bridge half a mile from town, tied ropes tightly around their necks, and swung them into eternity. Both men admitted their guilt, but claimed that they had killed the sheriff in self defense. The new sheriff was taken completely by surprise and it would have been useless for him to make resistance, as the mob was sufficiently powerful to have overcome him in a minute.

Accidentally Drowned.

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 8.—Patrick Keefe, a farmer living two miles south of Manhattan, on the Wabash road, was drowned last night in a culvert. Keefe drove off the side of the road, and, trying to get the horse up, the animal fell upon him, pushing him into the water.

Bryan Attends Church.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 8.—Williams Jennings Bryan spent a quiet Sunday. In the morning, with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wall, he attended Immanuel Presbyterian church and listened to a sermon by Bishop Fallows, of Chicago, on the text "Providence."

At San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Herman Oelrichs and her sister, Miss Virginia Fair, arrived from the east last evening and are domiciled in the family residence on the corner of Pine and Jones streets. Herman Oelrichs did not accompany them, but will probably follow in a few days. Both ladies are anxious to have their testimony in the inquiry as to the validity of their dead father's will taken as soon as possible.

He is a pleasant gentleman and is popular among the school teachers of the state.

A NEW RECORD.

Bicyclist Joe Marshall Materially Reduces the Time.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 8.—The record for twenty-five miles on the road was broken in the Denver Labor day road race. The judges have not yet decided whether to give the time prize to Joe E. Marshall, or E. Tyler Smith, nor has the time been definitely decided, although it will be about 1:02:20. The time prize would have been won by Max Kreutz had he not fallen within a few yards of the finish, causing so much confusion that the judges became muddled. Nat M. Gilman, with nine minutes handicap, won the race, his time being 1:06.41.

BRUTAL AND BLOODY.

Charles Beohm Stabs John Bach With a Knife.

The Wounded Man May Die of His Injuries—Several Toughs Mixed Up in the Case.

The German Singing society held a picnic at Berghoff's east side garden, yesterday, and the affair was not marred by any unpleasantness until toward evening, when several toughs gained admittance to the grounds and precipitated trouble. They were promptly ejected, John Bach, W. L. Keil and others taking a hand in the work of keeping order. The toughs left the immediate vicinity of the garden after making threats to have revenge on the men who put them out.

True to their word several toughs hung around until the picnicers started home. About 10 o'clock as Bach and Keil were walking along Washington street about a square from the garden they were set upon by the gang and in the general melee Charles Beohm drew a penknife from his pocket and viciously attacked Bach. After inflicting several ugly wounds, the assailants fled in the darkness. It was found that Bach's cuts were of a dangerous nature, one knife thrust having entered the abdomen, another in the hip and several in the side. There was also a straight cut under one eye, causing the cheek to hang down by a slight piece of skin. The injured man was conveyed to the St. Joe hospital, where Dr. M. F. Porter dressed his wounds.

Officer Cheviron, assisted by Officer Sharp, landed three fellows in the city prison at an early hour this morning, one of them being Charles Beohm, who did the stabbing, and the others being Henry Green and William Lauer, who are charged with being accomplices to the outrage. The prisoners had a preliminary hearing before Mayor Scherer and were held under $500 bonds each, upon a continuance until tomorrow morning. Beohm confesses his guilt and will be tried for assault and battery with intent to kill.

Mr. Bach, the injured man, is a carpenter in the employ of the Pennsylvania company. He has been boarding at the residence of John Schu, at 594 Lafayette street, and is a quiet and industrious citizen, whose friends cannot believe that he is at all to blame for the trouble.

A Son of Officer Harkenrider Dies of Brain Fever—Deaths and Funerals.

Fred Schulz, who is widely known on account of having followed the contracting business for many years, died at his home in Lakeside last night of liver and kidney trouble. Mr. Schulz has done a great deal of city work, such as building sidewalks and sewers, the past fifteen years. His age was fifty-eight years and he leaves a widow and several grown up children. He was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

The funeral of Mrs. Fredericke Schroeder took place this afternoon from St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. Lange officiating.

TALKING TO TEACHERS.

Interesting Proceedings of the County Teachers' Institute.

Miss Patridge and Professor Dryer are Heard Upon Valuable Subjects.

The second day of the county teachers institute was opened this morning with devotions by Rev. Albertson, pastor of Trinity M. E. church.

Miss Patridge, whose talk aroused so much interest yesterday, again took up the subject of "Silent Work." Dr. C. R. Dryer, formerly of the Fort Wayne public schools, now of the state normal university at Terre Haute, introduced the subject of "Science," which he masters so well. Professor Miles, the new music teacher in our public schools, spoke this afternoon on "Music."

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Rev. Dr. Bennett's remarks yesterday afternoon, with reference to the examination subject was widely commented upon. One of the questions he raised was whether the present system of school work does not tend to develop the memory instead of the reason. He was not in favor of so much depending upon the standard of the result of an examination. He stated that there was too much of a tendancy nowadays to cause overstudy. He thought five hours, well directed and spent, was enough.

Superintendent Young followed with a few words on the teacher's examination question, stating that in his opinion the methods now prevailing are unfair; that the present system often unjustly disqualifies the applicant for a position. He does not regard the failure of an applicant to pass a proof that such applicant is not fully competent to teach. He would favor a system whereby a certain school, which once passed through, would be the standard to judge the competence of teachers.

Miss Lelia Patridge delivered a talk on "Silent Work," referring to the influence of the teacher upon the pupil when he is not directly under her eye, that which is done at the desk and not in the recitation.

IN PROTECTION

Receivers are Named by the Court

For Fort Wayne Street Railroad Company.

Funds Diverted by President Shippard

Leads to Its Temporary Embarassment,

And the Owners Ask for a Receivership.

The Company Will be Able to Pay Its Indebtedness in Full—Receivers Wanted for Protection.

In the circuit court this morning Senator R. C. Bell, of the law firm of Morris, Bell, Barrett & Morris, appeared before Judge O'Rourke and asked that a receiver be appointed for the Fort Wayne Consolidated Street Railroad company.

He represented that the president of the company, John J. Shippard, of Cleveland, Ohio, who had just resigned his position as such, had diverted $1,500,000 worth of the bonds of the company and $12,000 worth of its stock and for that reason the affairs of the company had become so embarassed that they required time to adjust their business so as to meet such claims as might be brought against them.

Judge O'Rourke appointed John H. Bass and M. S. Robison as the receivers of the company and they will conduct its business until the present embarrassment is tided over, which can be easily done, as the assets of the company are abundantly sufficient to pay off all their indebtedness. The company has $2,000,000 worth of property and their indebtedness, all told, will not reach $1,500,000. Six hundred thousand dollars of this indebtedness is for the construction of the road to Robison park.

The application for the appointment of the receiver was made at the request of Frank DeHass Robison, of Cleveland, who controls $800,000 worth of the stock of the company, and the bankers at Cleveland, who hold the company's indebtedness, and also the other creditors.

The receivers were asked for that the company might be protected from attacks. They will be able to pay every particle of their indebtedness, dollar for dollar, and those who have claims against it will undoubtely be paid in full.

The affairs of the company will be conducted as usual and the business and traffic of the road will not be interfered with in any manner whatever.

The goldbugs tell us that free coinage of silver would flood the country with cheap money. If our mints were run every day in the year at full speed they could only turn out about $60,000,000 a year. Now as this would be less than $1 per capita of our population, does anybody believe there is any danger of our country being overrun with money?

The result of yesterday's election in Arkansas was not only a democratic victory but a sweeping one, as the majority was the largest ever given in the state. This clearly shows the trend of public opinion on the money question. It is for the free coinage of silver, for giving to that metal the same rights that gold possesses.

The Sunday liquor law is poorly enforced in this city. The saloons are allowed to do pretty much as they please and it is not a difficult matter for men to gain access to them on Sunday and secure intoxicating drinks. Mayor Scherer is to be severely condemned for his neglect in enforcing the Sunday saloon law.

The insurance companies and the railroads and the banks are making their power and influence felt in the present political campaign for the single gold standard and are doing all they can to control votes. They favor class legislation and would, to accomplish their own selfish ends, pass laws which would not be for the greatest number of people.

It was reported in the press dispatches from Indianapolis, when the gold standard convention assembled, that the old fashioned Hoosier 12 o'clock dinner had to be changed to 6 o'clock to fit the tastes of a majority of the eastern delegates. No wonder these men despaired at the start of carrying the state for their own candidate and turned all hope of it over to "the other fellows," who have sense enough to eat dinner at any time of day and with a colored brother at that, if thereby they may gain a vote. Belmont may know all about finance in Wall street, but he don't know a circumstance about Hoosier ways. He should remember that what is good manners at court is most mockable in the country.

Judge R. S. Taylor, of this city, delivered a republican speech at Peru today on the money question. Judge Taylor is one of the most forcible of speakers and always discusses questions in a clear and interesting manner. He possesses the qualifications of the lawyer in a high degree, to make the wrong appear right, and this he ingeniously does in his efforts to plead for the single gold standard.

With the election only eight weeks away many persons are naturally beginning to ask for information as to what the outlook in this state is. The answers are not very complete or satisfactory. In speaking of the situation, the Indianapolis News says: "If one goes to either of the old party head quarters he is informed that "everything is all right." The republican managers seem to be confident that the party's majority will be as large as it was two years ago, when it reached nearly 47,000 Chairman Holt, of the state committee, and those associated with him in the management of the democratic campaign, assert that the democratic majority will not fall below 40,000. And so it goes. Men who have been endeavoring to get hold of some reliable information have reached the conclusion that the conditions are so abnormal that no one is able at this time to foretell with any degree of certainty what the result in the state will be."

How It Feels to Be Rich.

Jacob Benn of Hicksville, N. Y., has had an unusual experience. He was a railroad laborer and he suddenly found himself heir to an estate of $125,000. That would not have paid for the wedding of an American nobleman's daughter, still, for Americans of the common herd it would practically be at least $1,000,000. Some lawyers announced his luck to Jacob as he wrought at his task on the railroad.

"Thanks be to God!" exclaimed he. He threw down his pick and shovel and started on the run for home to see his wife and boys and girls. Then reporters interviewed him to see what he was going to do. All his thought was for his family. First he said he was going to build them a good house. Then he was going to get the children bicycles, for which they had long sighed. After that they should have a good education, every one, something which he himself confessed—the hardworking Irish laborer—that he had sadly missed. Really it could hardly have been expected of him, this longing for an education, but one cannot always tell.

Then, after the future was parceled out satisfactorily among his beloved flock, Jacob Benn confessed that he did not know what to do with his own future. "I would feel more at home with myself if I was out on the road there at work."

The reporter asked him how he spent his time now that he was rich. He answered:

Moping around. I get up as early as ever. I don't eat as much as I used to, and I don't sleep as well. Sometimes, upon my soul, it it wasn't for them I could wish I had never been left a cent.

American Apples For England.

The cost of shipping American apples from our eastern ports to England is about $1 a barrel. The apple crop is short in Europe. It is immense in the United States. There is a prospect that hundreds of thousands of barrels of our apples can be marketed at good prices in Europe this fall and winter if they are properly packed and labeled for just what they are. Formerly the English market for our Newtown pippins was a famous one. But some pernicious American scoundrels labeled inferior varieties with the name of the favorite and endeavored to palm them off on the British for the genuine. Result—English dealers will not touch apples labeled Newtown pippins. Just so American knaves and scoundrels ruined the market for United States cheese in Great Britain.

The apples our British cousins most like are big red ones. A member of the staff of The Rural New Yorker finds that the Oldenburgh, the Baldwin, the Northern Spy, the Tompkins County Kings and the Spitzenberg, in the order named, are the varieties that go off the best. The barrels should be evenly packed, apple by apple, stem end up, and the name of the grower and of the apple stenciled on the head. The fruit should be packed before it is quite ripe.

But if any villain undertakes to put small, rotten or knotty apples in the middle of the barrels, shoot him on the spot!

What silver is really worth in gold may be settled in a startling way. Many scientific men incline to the theory that all the different material substances are in their ultimate particles one and the same, and that at the foundation of them all is a universal substance. The difference comes from the various arrangements of the ultimate particles. This being the case, if it were possible to discover what the arrangement of these ultimate particles is in metals and other things it would be possible to change one substance into another. Dr. Emmens, a metallurgist, has created a sensation by declaring that he has found the secret of changing silver into gold by working on the ultimate particles. The gold he made from silver stands every test and is perfect, he declares. And it takes six ounces of silver to make four of gold. If Dr. Emmens will quickly get a patent on his process and give the use of it to the public, he will greatly relieve a distressed world.

In 30 states Labor day is celebrated as a legal holiday. It was first made so in New York in 1882. Congress has pronounced it such also. Labor day in Europe comes May 1, and the police authorities of the great cities there breathe much easier when it is over, as there are usually red flags and anarchistic demonstrations, with some broken heads, declamation of the dynamite order and arrests. But our workingman is not that sort.

THE RABBI'S MISSION.

Inaugural Sermon Preached by Rev. Frederick Cohn

Upon Assuming Pastoral Charge of the Achduth Veshalom Congregation of This City.

Rev. Frederick Cohn, the new rabbi of the Hebrew congregation of this city, is a brilliant and able divine and his people here and many of our other citizens have given him a cordial welcome. His inaugural sermon, preached on the Friday evening after his arrival on "The Mission of the Rabbi" was an effort that held the large audience present interested listeners throughout and contained so many good thoughts that The Sentinel is led to publish extracts from it.

He took for his text the verse from Isaiah, "For Zion's sake will I not hold my peace and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest until her righteousness go forth as brightness, and her salvation as a lamp of brightness," and in beginning his discourse he spoke at some length in explanation of the prophet's words and the inspiration that they were to the young preacher about to enter upon the duties of his professional career, using it as an introduction to his discourse which treated on the qualifications that should be possessed by the modern rabbi.

Like the prophets of old, he said, the modern rabbi should be first and foremost, a preacher of righteousness. Righteousness is to be the burden of all his messages, the key note that shall resound sharp and clear through all his utterances. Righteousness should go forth as brightness from every sermon and be the fit moral that shall adorn every tale whether taken from the historic pages of the past or from the living wonders and eternal revelations of the records of science. The rabbi's duty is not so much to teach, as to preach. It is true the priest's lips should guard knowledge, but it is also true that the law of God should be in his mouth. Instruction should be ever the means but never the end. The minister should, indeed, educate and enlighten, but only that he may the more effectually edify. He is to employ all the learning of which he is master and all the skill of speech at his command, to set forth the beauty of holiness, the duty Godliness. He is to inspire his hearers with a love of righteousness, and to arouse in their hearts with all his force of soul, purifying thoughts and ennobling emotions He is to prompt them to deeds of goodness and of love, to a carrying out of the demands of justice into every act of daily life. In the robes of righteousness he should himself be clad, and with the robes of righteousness he should seek to invest others. This is his work, whether in the pulpit or out of the pulpit; in the schoolroom or on the platform; among the members of his own congregation, and also in the larger life of the world in which he is to mingle—everywhere it is to be his highest aim, his noblest mission to cause righteousness to go forth as brightness and salvation as a lamp that burneth.

This, my friends, is the whole meaning of Judaism; the whole significance of its life and its history. Righteousness was the grand lesson, it was to teach mankind the ideal goal to which it was to elevate all humanity. Judaism's whole history is one sublime effort to fill the earth with the knowledge of God as waters cover the sea. For this the nation Israel was born, to this divine end it consecrated its existence, dedicating all its noblest powers, all it gifts of inspired genius. For this its heroes fought and its martyrs bled. To this sweet strain the minstrel tuned his harp until all Judea's hills and all her vales re-echoed with his song. For this the prophets spoke as men n'er spake before and perhaps shall never speak again. For this they cried aloud unto the everlasting Heavens with tongues so eloquent and pleadings so tender that the very mountains melted into tears. "Let judgment roll down as waters and righteousness like a mighty stream. Righteousness was the absorbing passion of their lives. For righteousness sake they gave up home and happiness, and sacrificed their peace and their safety. The voices of these God-intoxicated men were heard always and ever, in the quiet of the castle, in the tumults of the city, above the noise of conflict and the din of war. The demands of righteousness they thundered into the ears of kings and court, of people and of priests. It was for this that the prophet Amos left his herds on the hills of his native Teleos, and appeared suddenly in the streets of Samaria, and there, in the midst of feasting and of revelry, with divine indignation and with bitter denunciations, uttered those terrible words of warning that sent a thrill shudder of fear through the hearts of the gay and frivolous and luxurious populace. Jeremiah became a man of sorrows and a prophet of evil, because he would declare to Israel his transgression and to the house of Jacob their sins, and though he was hated and reviled and persecuted and his whole life filled with misery and pain, he but drew the girdle of his mantle tighter about him and with the fire of God burning within him, dealt blows in words like hammers that shiver and splinter the evils Righteousness, righteousness was the eternal insistance of these incarnate sons of God.

To teach this eternal lesson was Israel's true mission and grandest destiny. For this, in the fulness of time, it gave up its national existence, that it might become a kingdom of priests, a world people that should be everywhere witnesses of God. The Talmud says that when the temple was destroyed the Messiah was born. Not Jesus, but Israel, was the true Messiah. Not one favored son, but the whole people by its tragic history became mankind's redeemer. For humanity's sake Israel suffered not thirty years, but thirty centuries; for humanity's sake, Israel died not one death on lonely Golgotha, but a thousand deaths in every part of the globe, by fire and by sword, by racks and by thumbscrew, by scourge and by dungeon, by edict of inquisition and by ukase of czar. Israel became the universal Saviour, bringing to the Gentiles that salvation which is the only salvation—the salvation of religion and of righteousness.

And this is still Israel's mission, to teach men righteousness The day has not yet come when the modern prophet can say with pride, "My people are all righteous; they shall inherit the land." That land is still a promised land. We, indeed, at times, from some mountain peaks of noble endeavor which we have scaled through earnest striving, catch glimpses of it, but its broad realms of happiness we have not yet entered. The prophets die before the goal is reached. The people linger in the wilderness And yet we should not despair. There are always other prophets, brave and courageous, (to assume the leadership,) and to resume the noble work. The modern Rabbi is neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet, yet it is his highest ambition to follow in the footsteps of the prophets, and his loftiest aim to help to realize the ideals of the prophets. He believes that their ideals are still the highest ideals. He knows that they are worthy of the best efforts of every man. He thinks that in them lies the only remedy for all the ills that civilization is heir to; all the evils that still afflict mankind.

Righteousness is still the only salvation. We bemoan and bewail over the present condition of affairs, not only in this country but in every country throughout the world, we complain in sorrowful tones that the times are sadly out of joint, that all things are radically wrong, that human institutions have been weighed in the balance and been found wanting, that human society needs reconstructing, for the very basis upon which it rests is fundamentally false, and in the extreme of despair and desperation we have recourse to highspun theories of amelioration and to Utopian fancies of reorganization, forgetting in our real difficulty lies nearer home, that there is only one solution, sound and simple and sufficient, that the only foundation upon which any society can safely rest and thrive and prosper, is the three eternal pillars of righteouaness, "Upon truth, upon justice, and upon peace"

Righteousness is what is needed in all the earth, men's knowledge of their duties, and a faithful, conscientious fulfilment of them, a worthy respect for one's own self, and a just acknowledgment of the claims of others. Righteousness is a large word, and though it has only one meaning, it has applications as infinite as the relations of human life. Each has his particular path of righteousness; each his own specific sphere of duty, whether in the home or in the counting house, in the quiet study chamber or in the busy marts of trade. Righteousness knows no distinction; all are subject to her demands. She has no favorites; she gives none a special ticket of leave There is not one rule for the rich and another for the poor, one for the wise and another for the foolish. All are equally bound by the one supreme law which governs the universe in reason and in righteousness.

Let us, then, do each our part as worthy members of the great society of men. Let righteousness be the motive of all our actions, the guiding principle of our whole lives. Let it be our greatest concern, ever present, never dormant, to do only that which our conscience tells us to be good and right Let us be actuated in our dealings toward one another not by a narrow, selfish prudence, not by a cold calculating policy, not by at absorbing greed for gold, but by a broad and generous spirit of sympathy, of kindness and of love.

As righteousness is the only salvation, so each one of us must be his own Saviour. Judaism does not believe in salvation by proxy. It knows no mediator with special powers. Not only the rabbi, but every son of Israel is a priest of God. The upright Jew fears no future. His religion tells him that never have the righteous been forsaken. They flourish like the palm tree, like the cedars of the Lebanon they sprout Planted in the house of the Lord they blossom in the courts of God. The tree of righteousness dreads no tempest. Firmly rooted in right by the rivulets of pure flowing deeds nourished ever anew by its own noble activity, (it brings forth its fruit in due season) its leaves do not wither, and all that it does prospers. The truly righteous man none can successfully assail His righteousness goeth forth in the brightness of a good name, in the halo of grandeur that encircles the spot upon which he stands. His own pure conscience and soul's serene satisfaction is his perpetual salvation which illumines his path, which sheds its benign rays upon his life, which warms and comforts him like unto a lamp that burneth.

BLACK AND WOODRUFF.

Men New to Fame Lead the New York State Republicans.

In New York state the Republican candidates for governor and lieutenant governor are Frank S. Black and Timothy L. Woodruff. Mr. Black was born March 8, 1853, in the town of Limington, York county, Me. He was one of 11 children, and as his father was a poor farmer, he had but limited advantages. Young Black was determined to become a lawyer, however, and he studied unceasingly. From the district school he went to the academy at Lebanon and then by teaching school he managed to get through Dartmouth college, graduating with honors in 1875. He then removed to Johnstown, N. Y., where he supported himself by doing newspaper work, studying law all the time. As a reporter he went to Troy and was there admitted to the bar in 1879.

Like all young lawyers, he had a hard struggle to get to the front, but after a time he obtained recognition and became very successful in his profession. Not until 1894 did he find time to turn his attention to politics. It was at the time of the unfortunate incident at the Republican primaries in Troy when Robert Ross was shot and killed. Lawyer Black took a prominent part in the work of organizing the committee of one hundred and was chosen chairman of that organization, which forced the prosecution of Bat Shea and secured his conviction and execution. In the fall of that year he was nominated for congress and was elected, although the district had been Democratic before. Since then he has become the Republican leader in his district. So, you see, his rise in politics has been swift and brilliant.

Mr. Black is a man of striking personal appearance. He stands 6 feet 2 inches in his stockings, and his spare figure makes him seem even taller. His face is lean and thin, and his piercing black eyes look out through glasses which he constantly wears. He is married and has several children.

Timothy L. Woodruff of Brooklyn is one of the most successful young business men and the most prominent social leaders in the City of Churches. He was born in New Haven and is descended from the earliest settlers of Connecticut. He was left an orphan at the age of 10, but received an excellent education, being graduated in turn from Phillips academy at Exeter, N. H., Yale college and Eastman's Business college. Then he went to Brooklyn and was signally successful in business. He is now at the head of several big commercial concerns, president or director in several banks and a member of numerous secret societies. Five years ago he married Miss Cora Eastman, daughter of the late mayor of Poughkeepsie.

THE NEW CABINET OFFICER.

David R. Francis, Who Will Be Secretary of the Interior For a Short Time.

David Roland Francis, the new secretary of the interior, is an ex-governor of Missouri, and has several times before been mentioned as a possible cabinet member. He has been for more than ten years a prominent figure in Missouri politics.

Mr. Francis is a Kentuckian by birth and is not quite 46 years old. At the age of 15 years he removed to St. Louis and was educated at Washington university in St. Louis. After being graduated he returned to Kentucky, and for a short time studied law, but as his funds were low he accepted an offer from his uncle, then the head of a large commission house in St. Louis, and returned to that city to work as a shipping clerk. He developed so much business ability that he soon became a partner in the firm, and a few years later branched out for himself in the same business. His success in commercial life was phenomenal. He operated largely in wheat, and in a few years had amassed a fortune of $750,000, which, by the way, it is said, he has since then almost doubled. He was successively elected director, vice president and president of the Merchants' Exchange of St. Louis.

It was not until he had reached a high position in the commercial world and had become a millionaire that Mr. Francis turned his attention to politics. He was first elected as a delegate to the Democratic convention of 1884 which nominated Grover Cleveland. The next spring he was elected mayor of St. Louis, which office he filled for three years. As mayor he was noted for his vetoes of franchise bills and for his generally vigorous policy. It was while he was still mayor that he was elected governor. During his term of office he entertained lavishly, and Jefferson City enjoyed the gayest social seasons which it had ever known. At the time he was the youngest governor in the country.

Ever since 1884 Mr. Francis has been a strong personal friend of President Cleveland. During the latter's first term Mr. Francis was mentioned as a probable cabinet member, but he was not chosen because of political complications. When President Cleveland came to make up his second cabinet, the name of Mr. Francis was again on the list. When Mr. Bissell resigned, it was thought that Francis would succeed him, but the time for him to enter the cabinet did not come until Hoke Smith's resignation. Secretary Francis will have six months to serve.

AROUND THE WORLD.

John J. Brough Encircles the Globe on a Bicycle.

John J. Brough, a well known merchant of Manchester, Conn., aged 45 years, has returned from a trip around the world which consumed exactly a year. Mr. Brough traveled on a bicycle wherever possible. Of the 60,000 miles covered by him 40,000 were by water, 12,000 on his wheel and the rest by railroad in different countries.

Mr. Brough sailed from New York Aug. 17, 1895. He was accompanied on his start by his brother-in-law, Cyrus P. Forsyth of Black Creek, Ont. The two landed at Queenstown, Ireland, and while on a tour of the island Mr. Forsyth fell from his bicycle and received a compound fracture of his arm. His companion proceeded alone. He visited Scotland, north and south Wales and many places in England.

From London he went by water to Dieppe, France, then wheeling to Holland and Germany. At Frankfort he won a 50 mile bicycle race and with it a prize of $100. In Italy he rode his wheel from Rome to Naples. At Constantinople he was in prison for three nights and two days for being without a passport. Later he found himself in Arabia and then made his way by Bombay to Calcutta. From the latter city he made a journey to the straits settlements; then to Rangoon, to Burma and on to China. From China he went to Japan and overland to Yokohama. Sailing from that Japanese port he reached San Francisco.

Even Potatoes Have It.

Even the potatoes have caught the 16 to 1 craze. Xerxes Berry, a Mason county (Ky.) farmer, has a large Irish potato on which 16 smaller ones, most of them of good size, were growing. John Melchell has another vegetable freak in the shape of an ear of corn that is an exact counterpart of a human hand. So remarkable is the resemblance that the ear has been preserved in alcohol.

Knights of the Maccabees.

The state commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children, we tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. Stevens, State Com.—Why not give this great medicine a trial, as it is guaranteed and trial bottles are free, at Dreier & Bro's drug store. Regular sizes, 50c and $1.00.

It May Do as Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so-called kidney cures, but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to the cure of all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statements. Price only 50c for large bottle. Syrup of Figs

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

MRS. MATTHEW S. QUAY.

Wife of the Great Republican Leader Adds Her Testimony to That of Thousands of Others for Paine's Celery Compound

Among the testimonials received this year by the proprietors of that greatest of all remedies, Paine's celery compound, are found many, as usual, from families of national reputation.

One of these is the following sincere statement that bears the signature of Agnes B. Quay, the wife of the Hon. Matthew S. Quay, United States senator, whom Pennsylvania so urgently named for the presidency at St. Louis:

Washington, May 15, 1896.

"Messrs. Wells & Richardson, Burlington, Vt.:

"Dear Sirs—My daughter and I have been using your Paine's celery compound this spring with most beneficial results.

"Those in an over fatigued condition will find it a gentle stimulant, and an excellent tonic, and I add my testimony to others without reluctance."

The relative merits and efficiency of Paine's celery compound in making people well is clearly shown in the character of the people who today rely on it to cure insomnia, nervous debility, persistent headaches and a run-down condition.

It is the power of rapid repair of the tissues that makes Paine's celery compound the great saver of life that it is. It brings just the needed nutriment to the distracted nerve tissues all over the body and increases the volume of healthy blood so that a breaking down of some vital part is averted. While taking Paine's celery compound there is a general building up of the deep lying tissues all over the body, and a throwing off of unsound elements that clog and interfere with its healthy activity.

The story of the discovery and unparalled success of Paine's celery compound is the story of a high purpose, steadfastly followed; the reward for the life long study of the nervous system in health and disease. Prof. Edward E. Phelps' discovery in the laboratory of the Dartmouth Medical School proved a monumental work in the art of dealing successfully with many diseases that were up to that time held to be obstinate of cure. Today rheumatism and neuralgia, heart palpitation and nervous dyspepsia are taken in hand by Paine's celery compound with the absolute assurance of freeing the system of them entirely.

In this greatest of all remedies there is hope for every person distressed by symptoms of dyspepsia, impure blood, failing vigor or low nervous condition.

Their companions in the master mechanic's office claim that of the game proudly exhibited by the hunters, nineteen squirrels had been killed by a Larwill youth at ten cents per head. But this statement may have been inspired by jealousy.

Master Mechadic F. A. Rider, of the Bass works, has applied for a patent upon a device for holding and locking bicycles to a tree, post, fence or telegraph pole. It is simply a clasp with a screw attachment, which fits snugly around the frame of the wheel or the handle bars and holds it securely until unlocked with a key. The piece will weigh only two or three ounces and can be carried in the vest pocket.

The Baltimore and Ohio and Baltimore and Ohio Southern systems are about to follow the example of the Pennsylvania company and operate their own dining cars over the roads. They will purchase the cars now in use from the Pullman company and repaint them in the new and beautiful Baltimore and Ohio standard colors, with gold lettering and stripes, and refurnish them throughout in the best style.

Indianapolis Journal: "September 5 was the birthday of William B. Lightsinger, conductor on the Fort Wayne Cincinnati and Louisville division of the Lake Erie and Western, and his associate employes presented him with a very handsome and expensive lantern of special make and finish. Mr. Lightsinger ranks among the most popular conductors on the Lake Erie and Western system, and has been in the service for years."

The general passenger agents of the roads whose passenger business has been cut into sharply by the establishment of trolley lines, often running to the suburbs and country five to fifteen miles, have of late been considering the matter of meeting such competition, and as a result the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore and Ohio and a number of other roads that have suffered in this direction will meet it by reducing rates at such points as Philadelphia, Baltimore and Pittsburg.

According to recent statistics, there are 2,040 railways in the country, capitalized at $12 400 000,000. The same authority states that there are 1,208 street railway companies, capitalized at $1 375 000,000, and 143 industrial corporations whose combined stock is estimated at $1,500,000,000. These figures include only corporations, and do not take into consideration the thousands of smaller manufacturing firms. It will be seen by these figures that the railway interests of the country are ten times greater than any other.

HEAVEN LOST TO HIM.

NEWTON GILKISON SETS UP AN EARTHLY PARADISE.

HIS OHIO FARM TURNED INTO A GARDEN OF FLOWERS.

Pathetic Story of the Deed That Has Deranged His Mind — Whipped His Son for Telling a Supposed Lie—The Little Fellow Died.

REMORSE for having whipped his son to death many years ago and the firm belief that he will never inhabit the celestial regions have caused Newton Gilkison, a farmer living a few miles from Mansfield, O., to build for himself a "heaven," in which he says his spirit will live after his death.

Newton—or "Newt," as country folk call him—is about 70 years old. He has lived on his little farm of forty acres a long time. Thirty years ago he accused his son of having stolen some trivial article. The boy denied it. "Newt" thrashed him so severely in an effort to make him admit his guilt that the boy died.

After "Newt's" son was buried it was discovered that he had not stolen the article. The father's remorse and grief unbalanced his mind. Secretly one night he went to the graveyard where the boy had been buried and removed the metallic casket to his home.

For seventeen years he kept the casket under his bed. By accident it was found. The township authorities took the casket away and put it again in the place from which it had been taken.

A few days later the grave was again empty. A second time the authorities took it away from "Newt's" home, and again the crazed farmer brought it back to his house and placed it under his bed. This was repeated several times, and finally the authorities placed a guard day and night over the grave.

Several years ago "Newt" began to build his heaven. He is a well-educated man and a good botanist. His farm was admirably adapted for the work of a landscape gardener, and "Newt" soon transferred his place into a beautiful park.

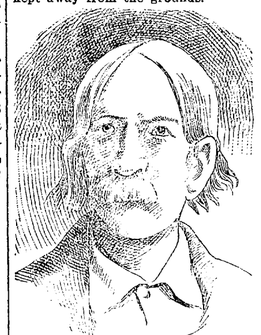
The house is built on the summit of a hill. Through the hollow below flows a clear, sparkling brook, shaded by tall sycamores. There are several natural springs in the vicinity and the soil is remarkably suitable for flowers and shrubs.

From the house to the brook is a broad flight of steps, on some of which crosses are carved.

In the little valley stand several dead trees. From the springs on the hill water flows through pipes to the trees, making beautiful fountains and keeping moist the soil around.

In summer time the little valley is carpeted with beautiful plants and flowering shrubs. "Newt" knows the botanical names of all his specimens and the families and orders to which they belong as well as any follower of Linnaeus. He paints flowers very well—that is, as botanists paint.

The children for miles around are afraid of "Newt." Once he caught a youngster cutting a fishing-pole in his paradise. The youngster was thrashed, and since then children have kept away from the grounds.



NEWTON GILKISON.

"Newt" has selected the spot where he is to be buried. It is marked now by a big mound of earth and a stake.

ASTOR AS CONSORT.

MAY MARRY THE PRINCESS VICTORIA OF WALES.

Should She Succeed to the Throne, He Would Become the Second Personage in the Realm — His Deliberate Plans for a Marriage.

HIGH life in London has taken seriously the possibility of William Waldorf Astor marrying the Prince of Wales' daughter Victoria. The ugly things that are said prove that. British pride is touched to the quick.

High life in London is no more apt to be thrown into a flurry of excitement by fanciful rumors than to be shocked by commonplace immorality. But the drawing-rooms and the clubs have had no sensation like this for months, nor have they been so wrought up.

Ask an Englishwoman of the court circle the grounds for alarm for supposing that the son of the queen of England will permit his daughter to marry the grandson of a German fur peddler and she will answer: "But the diamond he gave the Princess Maud!"

The English gentlemen of the old-style conservative type is reticent. If pressed he admits the diamond wedding present means much. He ends with some remark of which "American cad" is part.

It is not the fact that Mr. Astor's New York properties have contributed a gem worth a fortune to the royal bride, but the circumstance that the gift was not returned, that is significant. It will be hard for Americans to understand how much this really means, and it is this that has set London agog. It is the tacit recognition of the renegade American on the plane of a British nobleman of the first rank.

Astor, with his millions of New York rents, has been stalking high game. To everyone who has taken the trouble to observe the cautious, deliberate course adopted by the American millionaire it has been apparent from the very outset that he had in view some definite aim, some object upon which his ambition was centered, and to which everything his newspapers, his magazines and his vast wealth were subordinate.

After having during the first few years of his sojourn maintained a most reserved demeanor—that, in fact, of a social chrysalis—he has this year burst forth as a full-fledged butterfly of the most gorgeous and magnificent species, a butterfly indeed who manifests a supreme disdain for all but the very choicest flowers of England's aristocracy.

At one moment it was reported that he had in view a marriage with Lady Randolph Churchill, and many even went so far as to question her sons as to the date fixed for the wedding. But it has since become apparent that W. W. Astor flies at far higher game, that he aims at a matrimonial alliance grander than any that has ever fallen to the lot of any American—nothing less, in fact, than a match with British royalty in the person of the Princess Victoria, the only unmarried daughter of the Prince and Princess of Wales.

Insensate as it may appear at first sight, the possibility of Mr. Astor's becoming a grandson-in-law of Queen Victoria, the matter is very seriously discussed as a not at all unlikely project in the drawing-rooms of Mayfair, in clubdom and in court circles. And let it be understood right at the very outset that there is nothing whatsoever in the English constitution or law to stand in the way of such an alliance.

One of Queen Victoria's daughters, the charming Princess Louise, is married to a commoner, her husband, Lord Lorne, being only accorded the title of marquis by courtesy and being nothing more than mere John Campbell, Esq., in the eyes of the law.

Indeed, in every official document on which his name figures he is always described as "John Campbell, commonly called the Marquis of Lorne." Moreover, the husband of the eldest daughter of the Prince and Princess of Wales, although he is now a nobleman by reason of the dukedom of Fife, conferred upon him by the queen on his wedding day, can scarcely be considered an aristocrat, since he figures in the peerage as a great-grandson of that Mrs. Jordan who was the "fair friend" of King William IV., after having, as "Dolly Bland," been one of the most notorious women in London.

Rescue the Woman's Ball Team.

The bloomer girls, a Boston female ball team, arrived in Elk Point, S. D., the other day. They were warned not to play on Sunday, but disregarded the order, and at the end of the game were taken in custody by Deputy Sheriff Carter and his son. The crowd attempted to release them, but the officers hurried them into a wagon and started for the courthouse. A mob of nearly 500 followed, filling the air with their missiles. At the courthouse a message was sent for a justice of the peace. Before he arrived another rush was made by the crowd. Deputy Carter was overpowered and his son severely injured in the scuffle. The girls were hastily loaded into a wagon, and before re-enforcements could arrive were driven across the county line. The players subsequently left for Iowa to prevent an attempt to return them to Elk Point.

New Diamond Field.

A new diamond field has been discovered near Tamworth, New South Wales, and fresh finds of gold and silver continue to be reported. There are in this colony 378 works for the treatment of metals, employing 7,373 hands.

Some farmers in New South Wales are taking up the cultivation of tobacco, and the government of the colony is considering the advisability of engaging an expert from the United States to give them instruction.

A woman's noblest work is helping a baby into life and health. She is committing a crime when she helps a sickly baby into the world. It is a crime because it is wholly within her power to make the baby strong and healthy. She can do it by the proper preparation—by taking proper care of herself during the period of gestation. Many babies die early, or at birth, or are sickly all their lives because of their mothers' ignorance or neglect. Neither is excusable.

Every woman may be strong and well, and so insure the health of her baby. If she will take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription during the period of gestation, she will find that she will have none of the discomforts incident to this condition, and that parturition will be free from danger, and comparatively free from suffering. This medicine is the greatest remedy in the world for all the forms of weakness or disease peculiar to women. It is the only medicine of its kind prepared by a regularly graduated, experienced and skilled specialist in the treatment of diseases of women. It is the only medicine in the world that will make the coming of baby safe and easy. You can get it at the drug stores. If you want to know all about it, address Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

All those who suffer from biliousness, headaches, heart-burn, flatulence, palpitation of the heart, and a generally sluggish action of the digestive organs should take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. Forty in a little vial. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative; two a mild cathartic. By druggists.

THE BLUES.

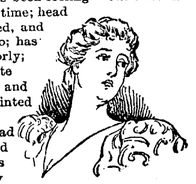
A GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF THE DREADFUL FEELING.

What Is Meant by This Form of Acute Misery—Where Doctors Make Mistakes.

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture.

It is usually this way:—

She has been feeling "out of sorts" for some time; head has ached, and back also; has slept poorly; been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart has beat very fast; then that bearing-down feeling. Her doctor says, "cheer up, you have dyspepsia; you'll be all right soon."



But she doesn't get "all right." She grows worse day by day, till all at once she realizes that a distressing female complaint is established.

Her doctor has made a mistake.

She has lost faith in him; hope vanishes; then comes the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES. Her doctor, if he knew, should have told her and cured her, but he did not, and she was allowed to suffer. By chance she came across one of Mrs. Pinkham's books, and in it she found her very symptoms described and an explanation of what they meant. Then she wrote to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice, feeling that she was telling her troubles to a woman. Speedy relief followed, and vigorous health returned.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instantly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women. It has been the standby of intelligent American women for twenty years, and the story recited above is the true experience of hundreds of women, whose letters of gratitude are to be found on file in Mrs. Pinkham's library.

Our Country From the Financial Control of the Corporations, Bondholders and the Money Power.

William J. Bryan is now making as grand a struggle in behalf of the people as has ever been witnessed at any time in the history of the world.

Combined against him are the bondholders seeking to get double payment for their bonds, corporations that have robbed and plundered the people, and a money power controlled by England that all but confiscates the product of the farmer and laborer.

In this great struggle, Bryan and democracy are confronted with all the obstacles that greed and power can invent, or money corrupt and purchase.

While Mark Hanna is "frying the fat" from the corporation, the bondholders and money power are liberally contributing for the defeat of Bryan and the people. A moment's reflection and every man will know that in this struggle for the people, a persistent, obstinate and continuous fight must be made until November next to win the victory and defeat the plutocracy of the country.

You all know that in this great issue the banks that have been earning 12 per cent. interest while the common people are almost destitute; that the railroad corporations that have been declaring 8 per cent. dividends for their bondholders, while their employes have been working on short time; that the usurers who are growing wealthy and impudent, have all three combined to corrupt, stifle, affright or bulldoze into inaction the courage, independence and manhood of the common people.

To make this fight effectual and successful, it is necessary to meet our unscrupulous adversaries at every point, and there make the issue plain, so that no man of understanding can be deceived or led astray. To do this it is necessary that literature should be freely distributed; that able speakers should meet frequently the people in the different school houses in the different townships, and that a perfect and effective organization must be maintained; and as in this battle we only have the people with us, therefore it is upon the people that we must depend.

Therefore the democratic central committee of Allen county calls upon the people, irrespective of past party affiliations, to make such contribution for the campaign fund as any of such persons may feel willing and able to make for the purpose of prosecuting a vigorous, aggressive and honest campaign. No matter in how small sums, no matter what humble contributions, let the friends of liberty and national honor contribute what they can to the good cause.

All remittances may be made to Howell C. Rockhill, Secretary of the democratic county central committee. A receipt will be returned promptly in every instance.

A GREAT SUCCESS

Is the Packard Piano, Manufactured by the

Fort Wayne Organ Co., of This City—What the Music Trade Press Thinks of It.

The Musical Courier, of New York, under date of December 11, 1895, writes: "Again does the west step forward into the piano arena with another candidate for musical honors in the shape of a highly successful piano made under the auspices of the Packard people, known as the Fort Wayne Organ Co. The piano is to be known as the organ is known, viz: 'Packard' being its name, and it is the result of a long deliberation, many months of experiment and a conscientious effort to give the better class of trade a piano endowed with musical qualities and such methods of construction as are consonant with modern and scientific piano making.

"The 'Packard' Piano sent here for inspection and test is one of a first lot produced, and its appearance at once indicates taste in case construction, the design and style being of a superior order. The tone and touch almost immediately impress the player and expert with the fact that the 'Packard' is to be another honorable addition to American piano making, for it is as a musical instrument that it will figure, and not merely as a piano in name only.

"The scale is a complete success from all points of view. It is a resonant, full, rich tone that emanates from it. It possesses a beautiful singing quality, a middle register with striking and elegant song in it. A treble brilliant and crystalline and a powerful bass."

ECZEMA From early childhood until I was grown my family spent a fortune trying to cure me of this disease. I visited Hot Springs and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. When all things had failed I determined to try S.S.S. and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible eczema was gone, not a sign of it left. My general health built up, and I have never had any return of the disease. I have often recommended S.S.S. and have never yet known a failure to cure.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES.

Can Captain Tebeau's colts play base ball? For an answer read the appended score of the games at Lakeside park yesterday. Youngstown came here feeling that they had a mark of Fort Wayne, a dead easy thing to win the two games here, but Captain Scheibel brought his team in last evening with all their fond hopes blasted, in fact they were the worst disgusted ball players that ever left Lakeside park after a day's work. They came here posing as the leaders in the race for the Interstate league pennant, but Captain Tebeau's farmer boys thought different, and thus it proved.

In the morning game Carrick was in the box for Fort Wayne with Criger behind the bat. Carrick was in "excellent shape" and proved a puzzler from start to finish for Youngstown, keeping the five hits that they made off him so scattered that but two runs were made. On the other hand Moynahan, who pitched for the visitors, was at the mercy of the Farmers, all but Grey connecting with his delivery, making a total of twelve hits. The score:

INNINGS.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R.
Fort Wayne	0	3	4	0	0	0	3	0		—10
Youngstown	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	— 2

Stolen bases—Grey, Criger, Esterguest, Rickert, Phillips, Cooper, Fitch. First base on balls—Off Carrick, 4; off Moynahan, 1. Hit by pitched ball—Moynahan, 4. Struck out—Carrick, 6; Moynahan, 1. Passed ball—Zinram, 1. Batteries—Carrick and Criger, Moynahan and Zinram. Umpire—Jevne. Time of game—1:50.

AFTERNOON GAME.

Uncle Cy Swaim done the "act" for the home team after dinner and had the visitors completely at his mercy. But three hits were made by Youngstown. Cy would strike out the heavy batters of the Buckeye team. He was given errorless support by the Farmers. Brodie, who thinks he is the only pitcher in the league, was in the box for Youngstown and at the end of the game, if one were to judge by his looks, he wished he had never seen a ball field. After the first inning the Farmers dropped onto him and pounded out everything from a home run by Esterguest, when the ball cleared the left field fence, to a single by Babb. It was a sort of a "go as you please" as far as the Farmers handling the stick was concerned. They had their eye on the ball and lined her out. A total of twenty-two hits is a record to point to with pride. The score:

INNINGS	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R.
Youngstown	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0		— 2

Hits—Fort Wayne, 22; Youngstown, 3. Errors—Fort Wayne, 1; Youngstown, 5. Earned runs—Fort Wayne, 9; Youngstown, 2. Two base hits—Criger, Rickert, 3. Three base hits—Tebeau, Cooper. Home run—Esterguest. Stolen bases—Tebeau, 2; Fisher. First base on balls—Off Swaim, 1. Hit by pitched ball—By Brodie, 2. Struck out—By Swaim, 8. Passed ball—Zinram. Double plays — Esterguest, Fisher, Tebeau; Fitch and Hoffmeier. Umpire—Jevne. Time of game—1:55.

SIXTEEN INNINGS.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 8—Kansas City and Grand Rapids played two games yesterday, splitting even. The first game was a record-breaking contest for this season, requiring sixteen innings to settle, the visitors winning out, although the Blues scored three runs in the sixteenth inning Despite its length, it was not a particularly brilliant game. In the second game the Blues won as they pleased, hitting Luther hard, while Callahan was easily the master of the Goldbugs. Scores:

NOTES.

Poor Youngstown! How her hopes were blasted.

No games will be played in the Inter State league today.

Friday the Washington club will be here for three games.

There will be a game between Fort Wayne and Youngstown tomorrow afternoon.

In the game at Robison park yesterday, the Printers defeated the Clerks by a score of 7 to 1.

Umpire Jevne was in the game yesterday, except in two instances, on calling fair balls foul.

"Good Boy" Mitchell, catcher for Washington, is back in the game again, after a week's rest.

There are more oldtimers on the Cincinnati team than on any other of the National league teams.

The Clevelands have won eight out of eleven games from the Baltimores this season. The twelfth game was a tie.

Ten games won out of eleven played is not a bad record. That is the kind of a finish Fort Wayne is making for the Inter State pennant.

Youngstown, evidently fearing that they would be beaten, refused to play a postponed tie game off here, consequently we had no game today, although it was advertised.

Esterguest has received a new hat from Friend's Enterprise, as a reward of merit for his home run yesterday. This firm has a standing offer to all Fort Wayne players who make a home run at Lakeside park.

The secret of Criger's good batting has been discovered. When he was at Cleveland recently he was the guest of Burkett, Cleveland's star batter, and that champion presented him with a fine bat from his collection. Burkett has all his bats made to order. Criger always uses this bat and says that is why his average is so good.
